Purpose Set

the means used by characters to seek fulfillment or satisfaction

Evaluation Sethow characters judge the effectiveness of their actions or decisions

| that which one holds to be true, to rely on what is held to be true  Knowledge  mindful of a future where                 | being suited to handle a task; the innate capacity to do or be  Ability  the process of consider-               | objective reality; sees right through image and pretense  Actuality being conscious of one's | being conscious of things outside oneself, misses nothing around him  Aware  more concerned with the  | what's been shown to be correct to enough people enough times to be considered fact  Proven  an understanding based on | an unbroken chain of relationships leading from a premise to a conclusion  Theory  an understanding                                    | the end product of an effort, the specific outcome forced by a cause  Effect  to try out an idea to see if it     | acceptance without evidence, without proof  Trust  to be concerned with what  |
|---|---|--|---|--|--|---|---|
| situations or circumstances are improved  Desire  | ation, illuminating every side of an issue  Thought   | existence, everything's setin terms of his own viewpointSelf-Aware               | way things seem to be than how they really are  Perception  | insufficient circumstantial evidence  Hunch  | suspected to be true, butnot substantiated enoughto call it factUnproven   | is correct, to try things out before using them   | is behind a situation or its circumstances  Cause   |
| a patterned arrangement, concerned with keeping things organized  Order   | to want everything to work out fair and square, to maintain balance  Equity                                     | a continuation of a state or process, to maintain the status quo                             | an extension of probability into the future, a means of anticipating events  Projection               | to accept approximations that are "within tolerance" or "good enough" for the purpose at hand Accurate                 | what to expect to find at the end of a path  Expectation   | to consider the ripple effectthat might occur from agiven cause   | to look for the conclusion in every process or situation, either to prevent it or to hasten it  Ending                      |
| to evaluate in terms withwhat is wrong or unfairwith a situation  | random change or a lack oforder, brilliant at cuttingthrough a Gordian knot                             | what might happen in thefuture, even though it's notthe most likely scenario         | if things've been one waylong enough to establishpatterns, its time to change                 | to anticipate future effectsor to take action to stop orenhance a current effect                               | to find the error that ruinsthe argument, unable toaccept an explanation orconcept that isn't perfect                      | to see nothing as everending, everything is a stepleading to another                                      | an ongoing activity; tokeep the engine runningsmoothly  |
| Inequity  | Chaos   | Speculation  | Change  | Determination  | Non-Accurate   | Unending  | Process   |
| to weigh the pros and cons,deliberate and ponder onan issue, to keep running itover in one's mindConsider | a rational sense of howthings are related, to makethe most efficient choicebased on reasonLogic | the drive to seek after, to determine what's needed and head straight for it                 | directed, constrained, to methodically direct action and deliberation to the purpose at hand  Control | to be completely sure before taking action or accepting something as true Certainty                                    | to put beliefs and effortsbehind what's most likely,not as bound to safety asthe certainty characterProbability | to take initiative, to be at itthe moment a problememerges, to problem solveon one's ownProaction | to allow a course of actionby not interfering, or to notmove out of harm's wayand create a blockadeInaction |
| an emotional sense of howthings are going, to makethe most fulfilling choicebased on emotionFeeling       | to think through again, to reexamine conclusions to see if they are still valid  Reconsider                     | unconstrained, free, fully involved, but without direction                                   | to step around, prevent or escape, to stop something from happening  Avoid                            | to determine something might be true, to look at a whole range of alternatives  Possibility                            | to determine something might become true, to take risks on long odds  Potentiality   | to prevent interference with one's concerns, to build defenses against actual & potential threats  Protection     | to strike back at the source of a problem after it materializes  Reaction   |
| to accept without proof;  | to forgo an immediate   | to aid the effort without  | to directly assist in an  | to arrive at a determination   | to compare the likelihood  | to allow, tolerate, or adapt,   | to create an understanding  |
| faith in one's ability is avery strong motivator  | pleasure or benefit because of future consequences  | actually participating in it   | effort  | of what is, by limiting out all that cannot be   | of several incomplete linesof deduction  | to never oppose   | of how all the parts fittogether to better grasphow to deal with an issue   |
| Faith   | Conscience  | Support  | Help  | Deduction  | Reduction  | Aceptance   | Evaluation  |
| the urge to embrace immediate benefits despite possible consequences  | absolute confidence thatsomething is not true   | to undermine another'seffort, even if it's unawareof what it's doing                 | to speak out against aneffort without activelyengaging to prevent it                          | to arrives at a future truth by limiting out what can not happen   | to determine where anunbroken line of causalrelationships might lead   | to reconsider one's firstimpressions, but easilyswayed by new misleadinginformation                   | to not allow, tolerate,compromise, or adapt; adecision to oppose  |
| Temptation  | Disbelief   | Hinder   | Oppose  | Production   | Induction  | Re-Evaluation   | Non-Acceptance  |

Methodology Set the means characters use to achieve their purpose